

FALL SEMESTER

EDK 337 Epigraphy I 5 ECTS

Course Objectives

To ensure the students to get the main knowledge at the epigraphy, which is an important field of the Classical Studies.

Course Content

The significance of epigraphy, especially of the epigraphical material found in Asia Minor in the field of Classical Studies; The methods of archiving of the epigraphic and numismatic materials obtained during the field work and museum researches by the way of squeezing, copying, moulage and photographing; the main classifications of the inscriptions will be the main topics of the course.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. To be able to read the ancient greek inscriptions.
2. To be able to comment on the inscriptions.
3. To get the knowledge of political, cultural, economical, military and juridical history and belief system of the Ancient Greek and Roman societies.
4. To be able to decipher the newly found inscriptions, and to get the ability of determining the concept and category of them.
5. To interrelate the literary texts with the epigraphic texts.
6. To get the ability of squeezing the inscriptions and archiving of them.

Weeks	Topics
1	Introduction
2	Reading the inscriptions, deciphering.
3	The exercises intended to reading and deciphering.
4	The development history of epigraphy 1: The sample inscriptions from the archaic period (Dipylon, Nestor and Deidamas inscriptions)
5	The development history of epigraphy 2: The sample inscriptions from the archaic and classical periods
6	The development history of epigraphy 3: The sample inscriptions from the hellenistic period
7	The development history of epigraphy 4: The sample inscriptions from the Roman period
8	The development history of epigraphy 5: The sample inscriptions from the late Roman period
9	Technics of squeezing (at the museum)
10	Technics of reading the squeeze.

11	The characteristics of votive inscriptions
12	The votive inscriptions displaying a reason
13	The votive inscriptions containin historical informations
14	Simple funerary inscriptions
15	Complex funerary inscriptions

EDK 445 Epigraphy III 5 ECTS

Course Objectives

To provide having basic knowledge on epigraphy one of the most important field of Classical Studies.

Course Content

City Decrees containing Sociological, politics, religious etc. and the samples from letters of king and emperor belonged to Hellenistic and the Roman Imperial Age will be discoursed and interpreted.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. To be able to read the ancient greek inscriptions.
2. To be able to comment on the inscriptions.
3. To get the knowledge of political, cultural, economical, military and juridical history and belief system of the Ancient Greek and Roman societies.
4. To be able to decipher the newly found inscriptions, and to get the ability of determining the concept and category of them.
5. To interrelate the literary texts with the epigraphic texts.
6. To get the ability of squeezing the inscriptions and archiving of them.

Weeks	Topics
1	Introduction
2	Epigraphical Documents about Coming Out of "Euergesia" in the Late-Classical Period
3	Contributions of "Euergetai" to City during time of Famine and Wars: Such As Herakleides from Salamis
4	Continuation of the previous subject: Such As Euksenides from Phasalis.
5	Philosophers and Intellectuals in Hellenistic Inscriptions
6	Documents showing Relations between Hellenistic Kings and Cities.
7	Samples from King Letters: Ptolemies
8	Samples from King Letters: Seleucids
9	Samples from King Letters: Attalids
10	The Fact of "Syngeneia"

11	The Usage of foreign Adjudicator in diplomatic field
12	Varieties of Agonistic Activities in Hellenistic Cities
13	Some Samples from Epigraphical Documents containing Border Disagreements
14	Construction Activities
15	General Assessment

EDK 127 Outlines of Ancient History I 3 ECTS

Course Objectives

Introducing outlines of the historical developments and relations of the states in Asia Minor, Aegean and Mediterranean geography in the period between 1000-500 BC; and laying a foundation for the courses such as Ancient Greek and Epigraphy.

Course Content

Political developments in Mediterranean and Aegean between Late Bronze Age and Classical Period are the main topics of the course. City states established in Late Bronze Age, colonization movements, origins of polis and democracy, Persian wars are the bases of these political developments.

Course Learning Outcomes

Weeks	Topics
1	Introduction
2	The general political situation of states in Bronze Age
3	Migration in Late Bronze Age and the dark ages
4	Dark Ages: Features and its reflections in later sources (Homer, Thucydides etc.)
5	Archaic Period: birth of "polis"
6	Archaic Period: colonization movements
7	Archaic Period: the clash of classes and democratization process
8	Age of Tyrants: Athens, Milet, Corinth
9	Persian dominion in Anatolia and political situation of western Anatolia
10	Persian wars and establishment of Delian League
11	Athenian Hegemony in Aegean and western Anatolia
12	Peloponnesian war: reasons and conclusions
13	Spartan Hegemony
14	General political situation in Anatolia to the end of 5 th century BC.

SPRING SEMESTER

EDK 350 Epigraphy II 5 ECTS

Course Objectives

To ensure the students to get the main knowledge at the epigraphy, which is an important field of the Classical Studies.

Course Content

The significance of epigraphy, especially of the epigraphical material found in Asia Minor in the field of Classical Studies; The methods of archiving of the epigraphic and numismatic materials obtained during the field work and museum researches by the way of squeezing, copying, moulage and photographing; the main classifications of the inscriptions will be the main topics of the course.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. To be able to read the ancient greek inscriptions.
2. To be able to comment on the inscriptions.
3. To get the knowledge of political, cultural, economical, military and juridical history and belief system of the Ancient Greek and Roman societies.
4. To be able to decipher the newly found inscriptions, and to get the ability of determining the concept and category of them.
5. To interrelate the literary texts with the epigraphic texts.
6. To get the ability of squeezing the inscriptions and archiving of them.

Weeks	Topics
1	Introduction
2	Historical Funerary Inscriptions
3	Funerary Inscriptions containing professions
4	Social and Family History in the Funerary Inscriptions: The sample of Licinnia Flavilla
5	Social and Family History in the Funerary Inscriptions: The sample of Licinnia Flavilla
6	Simple Honorary Inscriptions: Classical and Hellenistic Periods
7	Simple Honorary Inscriptions: Roman Period
8	Honorary Inscriptions and city offices: the sample of Prusias ad Hypium
9	Honorary Inscriptions and city offices: the sample of Prusias ad Hypium 2
10	The samples of city offices

11	Introduction of the concepts of Arkhe and Leiturgia
12	Complex Honorary Inscriptions
13	Honorary Inscriptions showing the social status of the women
14	The women and the offices
15	General Evaluation

EDK 446 Epigraphy IV 5 ECTS

Course Objectives

To provide having basic knowledge on epigraphy one of the most important field of Classical Studies.

Course Content

City Decrees containing Sociological, politics, religious etc. and the samples from letters of king and emperor belonged to Hellenistic and the Roman Imperial Age will be discoursed and interpreted.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. To read Ancient Greek inscriptions.
2. To make interpretation on the inscriptions.
3. By using inscriptions to have knowledge about the politics, cultural, political-economic, military and juridical issues and belief system of the Ancient Greek and the Roman Societies.
4. To decode new found inscriptions and to determine its kind and content.
5. To interrelate between literary texts and epigraphical documents
6. To acquire skill of copying and archiving of inscriptions.

Weeks	Topics
1	Introduction
2	Samples from Inscriptions containing Athletics
3	The Process of the Religious Festivals in Cities
4	Religious Organizations in Countryside
5	Expiation Inscriptions from Lydia and Phrygia
6	Promoted Anatolians Roman Administration: Military Inscriptions.
7	Military Hierarchy and Epigraphy
8	“Equites” and “Procuratores”
9	Promoted Anatolians Roman Administration: Inscriptions about Equestrian and Senatorial Rank Governors
10	Senatorial Class and their Homeland
11	Guild Inscriptions: Such As Demosthenes From Oinoanda
12	Office Order in Inscriptions of Demosthenes

13	The Arrangement of "Demostheneia" Festival
14	Some Samples from Other Guilds
15	General Assessment

15	General Discussion
----	--------------------

EDK 128 Outlines of Ancient History II 3 ECTS

Course Objectives

Introducing outlines of the historical developments and relations of the states in Asia Minor, Aegean and Mediterranean geography in the period between 1000-500 BC; and laying a foundation for the courses such as Ancient Greek and Epigraphy.

Course Content

The rise of Athens and its hegemony over the other cities in Aegean and Western Anatolia; consequences of Peloponnesian war; Spartan Hegemony; political and economic crises of polis states in 4th century BC; The rise of Macedonia; states established in Mediterranean basin following the conquests of Alexander the Great.

Course Learning Outcomes

Weeks	Topics
1	Introduction
2	The relations between Sparta and Persia at the beginning of 4 th century BC and general political situation in Aegean
3	Leuktra ve Mantinea
4	Satrap's Revolts
5	The fall of independent polis system and the rise of Macedonia
6	Philippus II and Hellenic League
7	Great Uprising of polis states and Lamian War
8	The empire of Alexander the Great
9	Strife between successors (diadochoi) of Alexander
10	Easter Mediterranean in 3 rd century BC: Ptolemaic dynasty
11	Easter Mediterranean in 3 rd century BC: Seleucid dynasty
12	Easter Mediterranean in 3 rd century BC: Antigonid dynasty
13	New Powers in Anatolia: Kingdoms of Pergamon, Bithynia, Kommagene and Pontus
14	From the Treaty of Apamea to Roman dominion
15	General discussion

2016-2017 Academic Year List of courses

Code	Credits	Course Title	Winter Semester	Spring Semester	General Contents	Contact Details of Lecturer	Department
EDK 337	5	Epigraphy I	X		The significance of epigraphy, especially of the epigraphical material found in Asia Minor in the field of Classical Studies; The methods of archiving of the epigraphic and numismatic materials obtained during the field work and museum researches by the way of squeezing, copying, moulage and photographing; the main classifications of the inscriptions will be the main topics of the course.	Name: Prof.Dr. N. Eda Akyürek Şahin E-mail: edasahin@akdeniz.edu.tr Tel: 90 242 310 61 84	Ancient Languages and Cultures
EDK 445	5	Epigraphy III	X		City Decrees containing Sociological, politics, religious etc. and the samples from letters of king and emperor belonged to Hellenistic and the Roman Imperial Age will be discoursed and interpreted.	Name: Prof.Dr. Mustafa Adak E-mail: madak@akdeniz.edu.tr Tel: 90 242 310 61 83	Ancient Languages and Cultures
EDK 350	5	Epigraphy II		X	The significance of epigraphy, especially of the epigraphical material found in Asia Minor in the field of Classical Studies; The methods of archiving of the epigraphic and numismatic materials obtained during the field work and museum researches by the way of squeezing, copying, moulage and photographing; the main classifications of the inscriptions will be the main topics of the course.	Name: Prof.Dr. N. Eda Akyürek Şahin E-mail: edasahin@akdeniz.edu.tr Tel: 90 242 310 61 84	Ancient Languages and Cultures

EDK 446	5	Epigraphy IV		X	City Decrees containing Sociological, politics, religious etc. and the samples from letters of king and emperor belonged to Hellenistic and the Roman Imperial Age will be discoursed and interpreted.	Name: Prof.Dr. Mustafa Adak E-mail: madak@akdeniz.edu.tr Tel: 90 242 310 61 83	Ancient Languages and Cultures
EDK 127	3	Outlines of Ancient History I		X	Political developments in Mediterranean and Aegean between Late Bronze Age and Classical Period are the main topics of the course. City states established in Late Bronze Age, colonization movements, origins of polis and democracy, Persian wars are the bases of these political developments.	Name: Prof.Dr. Mustafa Adak E-mail: madak@akdeniz.edu.tr Tel: 90 242 310 61 83	Ancient Languages and Cultures
EDK 128	3	Outlines of Ancient History II		X	The rise of Athens and its hegemony over the other cities in Aegean and Western Anatolia; consequences of Peloponnesian war; Spartan Hegemony; political and economic crises of polis states in 4 th century BC; The rise of Macedonia; states established in Mediterranean basin following the conquests of Alexander the Great.	Name: Prof.Dr. Mustafa Adak E-mail: madak@akdeniz.edu.tr Tel: 90 242 310 61 83	Ancient Languages and Cultures

2016-2017 Academic Year List of Traineeship Vacancy

Number of the Vacany	Credit (Number if its offered)	Contents	Contact Details of the Mentor	Department Academic or Administrative department
			Name-Surname: E-mail: Tel:	